Last-Minute Change and Style Pack

Regional Hospitality Leadership Conference | Customer revision issued for presentation rebuild

Workshop use: Learners compare this revised customer pack with the existing conference deck. They should rebuild the presentation from the updated source rather than patching every outdated slide.

Change summary

Area	Earlier deck	Revised customer requirement
Audience	120 guests	150 guests, including 18 regional directors
Programme	9:00 AM-4:30 PM	8:45 AM-5:00 PM; executive welcome added before the keynote
Breakouts	One breakout in Meeting Room 2	Two parallel breakouts; Meeting Room 2 and Garden Suite
Lunch	Buffet lunch	Working lunch with reserved executive tables and clearer dietary labels
Panel	Afternoon panel	Panel shortened; customer awards segment added before closing
Equipment	Two handheld microphones	Two handheld microphones, one lapel microphone, confidence monitor, and backup laptop
Customer update	General readiness update	One consolidated update at 7:45 AM covering room, catering, equipment, signage, and open risks

What must change in the story

The rebuilt presentation should not simply list the changes. It should help the customer understand the revised guest journey, the new executive experience, the additional room movement, and how the hotel will manage readiness under the compressed timeline.

Required presentation messages

1. The event has grown and now has a more senior audience.
2. The programme starts earlier and ends later.
3. Two parallel breakouts make guest movement and signage more important.
4. The working lunch and executive tables require clearer service coordination.
5. Expanded equipment needs an earlier and more visible readiness check.
6. The customer should receive one consolidated update, including open risks.

Customer look and feel

Use these preferences to align the rebuilt presentation with the conference-hall decoration concept.

Decoration concept

Theme: Modern tropical evening
Mood: Calm, premium, welcoming, and confident
Customer preference: Clean visual storytelling with fewer words and more purposeful imagery

Visual direction

Use: conference-hall details, tropical greenery, warm table lighting, directional signage, speaker moments, and simple diagrams of the guest journey.

Avoid: dense bullet slides, generic corporate stock imagery, bright rainbow palettes, decorative effects that reduce readability, and any visual that suggests an unconfirmed facility or service.

Slide-design preferences

• One clear message per slide.
• Strong titles that state the point, not just the topic.
• Use the customer palette consistently.
• Keep operational detail in simple diagrams, timelines, or comparison tables.
• Use charts only where the source data supports the message.
• Clearly label unresolved decisions or missing information.

Mandatory final review

Before presenting, compare every slide with the revised source pack. Confirm attendance, timing, rooms, equipment, catering format, update time, and open risks. Remove unsupported details inherited from the earlier deck.

Known open items

Final award recipients; confirmed dietary quantities; customer-approved stage backdrop; named room-readiness approver; urgent escalation contact.

Responsibility reminder: Copilot can propose a new presentation, but the hotel team must verify the facts, the customer message, and the final visual treatment.
