Positioning

Brand positioning defines how our brand is perceived by consumers and sets us apart from competitors. It identifies our unique value and communicates it effectively to our audiences. This positioning guides our marketing efforts, shapes customer perceptions, and influences purchasing decisions, ensuring our brand occupies a distinct and advantageous place in the market.

Across all our hotel and hospitality brands, our unwavering commitment to focus on what truly matters to the people we interact with every day makes a major difference.

Our essence is to be the best at what we do, not the biggest. It defines our exacting standards and guides our every action.

It’s the delight in our guests’ eyes, the passion in our people’s hearts, it’s the confidence we give our investors.

It’s the minor things that make a difference.

Minor things matter.

Purpose

Brand purpose articulates the fundamental reason our brand exists beyond making a profit. It captures our core mission and the positive impact we aim to make in the world. This purpose guides our actions, shapes our values, and inspires our team, ensuring that everything we do resonates with our audience and fosters deeper connections.

To create innovative and insightful hospitality experiences that deliver what people truly want.

Personas

Brand personas represent our target audience segments and embody their characteristics, needs, and behaviours, helping us better understand and connect with them. These personas guide our marketing strategies, content creation, and product development, ensuring that we effectively tailor our efforts to resonate with the diverse individuals who engage with our brand.

Our Guests

Our target guest is a global citizen with a local interest. They look for an emotional connection to the people they meet, and the places they visit.

They're put off by too much choice and empty promises, and seek a brand with excellent standards that will deliver on the things that truly matter to them.

For our leisure guests, that means a more trusted, rewarding and useful experience that can adapt to their needs, big or small. For our business guests, that means a more seamless, convenient and consistent experience that brings peace of mind and a sense of control.

More than anything, our guests want to be seen for everything that they are. They find joy and reward when an experience exceeds their expectations.

Our People

Our people seek a purposeful workplace where they can deliver more genuine hospitality to the world.

They value an environment that champions high-quality standards and accountability. And look for a culture that celebrates service excellence, yet also supports their aspirations.

They are led by the things that matter to our guests, and enjoy the autonomy and ability to anticipate and adapt to their changing needs. They look for opportunities that allow them to contribute, create and grow – both personally and professionally.

Our Investors, Owners and Partners

Our corporate audience looks for a long-term partner with a strong track record of performance, accountability and business success.

But beyond a mere transactional relationship, they want someone that aligns with their vision and values and uses hospitality as a tool to accelerate positive change.

They look for a trustworthy and entrepreneurial collaborator that can offer the scale and resources of an international group. Yet someone nimble, flexible and brave enough to pivot when the opportunity is right.

They want quality over quantity; a strategic and deliberate path towards sustainable financial returns.

Pillars

Brand pillars serve as the thematic commitment to our audiences by our business and brand. They embody the priorities that our business credibly proves through brand acts, ensuring that our messages resonate with our various audiences. These foundational principles uphold our brand identity, guiding our actions and communication strategies to authentically connect with our customers. By aligning with our brand pillars, we strengthen our brand identity and deepen connections with our audience, fostering meaningful relationships built on trust and authenticity.

1. Put People First

No matter how quickly we move or how much the industry changes, we never lose sight of what matters most – people. From employee wellbeing to thoughtful guest experiences; if you're part of our world, we'll aim to fill it with meaning and enjoyment. Because to us, hospitality is so much more than a service – it's a way to help more people lead fulfilling lives.

2. Act for Tomorrow

Sustainability matters. Not just to us, but to our guests, people, partners and the communities we touch. By making the right decisions today – from conservation to preservation, donations and community outreach – we make it easy to engage with initiatives that secure a better future for our planet and generations to come.

THE MARINE GUARDIAN TRANSFORMING CONSERVATION IN THE MALDIVES

Oriana Migliaccio, a marine biologist at Anantara's Maldives resorts, is revolutionising marine conservation. Her work includes coral reef restoration, sea turtle protection, and sustainable practices. She created the "Reef Hero" PADI course to educate divers on coral conservation and involves guests in activities like coral adoption and repurposing ghost nets. Her initiatives aim to preserve marine ecosystems and inspire guests to participate in ocean conservation, ensuring the Maldives' natural beauty endures for future generations.

3. Evolve Every Day

Entrepreneurship is in our DNA. We are fast, flexible, agile. We listen attentively and adapt strategically. And we act with passion and determination. It's how we evolve our business and develop new markets, products and experiences. To us, success can't happen if you're static, so we anticipate what people want, now and next – then we make it real.

MINOR HOTELS STEPS INTO THE FUTURE IN TROJENA, NEOM

Minor Hotels is expanding its luxury Anantara brand in Saudi Arabia with a new resort in Trojena, NEOM, a year-round mountain destination. Located 50 km from the Gulf of Aqaba, Trojena will host the Gulf's first outdoor ski resort, world-class events, and cultural festivals. The 270-key Anantara resort will offer luxury accommodation, dining options, a spa, fitness centre, infinity pool, and recreational facilities. Opening in late 2026, Trojena will host the Asian Winter Games in 2029 and will be accessible via NEOM International Airport and a high-speed rail network.

4. Never Stop Reaching

At Minor Hotels, we'll always hold ourselves to the highest standards. Whether it's midscale or luxury, business or leisure, hotels or spas, our promise is simple: if we say we'll do something, consider it done. In our pursuit to be the best, you can rest assured that we'll never stop reaching. So that we can execute on our promise to deliver on what matters most – again and again.

HARNESSING LOCAL KNOWLEDGE TO EXPLORE THE FASCINATING SECRETS OF THE DISTANT STARS

Anantara Kihavah Maldives Villas offers a unique stargazing experience at their SKY observatory, led by local experts Zunnoon Ahmed and Ali Arushal. Located in the Baa Atoll UNESCO Biosphere Reserve, the observatory features powerful telescopes and a luxury cocktail bar, allowing guests to explore the night sky free from light pollution. Ahmed and Arushal, passionate about astronomy since their youth, guide guests through celestial events and constellations, enhancing the experience with their knowledge and captivating stories.

Brand Story

LONGFORM

Our brand story is more than just a narrative; it's an emotive journey that captures our brand's role and what we stand for, resonating deeply with external audiences. It serves as a powerful connection point, weaving together our thematic commitment, brand priorities, and genuine acts into a compelling tale. Through our story, we not only communicate our values and mission but also evoke emotions that forge lasting connections with our audience, inviting them to be part of our shared journey.

Over four decades, Minor Hotels has built a global network of hotel and hospitality brands driven by one key philosophy – we don't need to be the biggest, but we do need to be the best.

Perpetually driven by an entrepreneurial spirit, we create better hospitality brands, businesses and partnerships. We do this because hospitality is our calling. We live and breathe it every day, always led by what matters most to our guests, our team members and our partners.

From one hotel to hundreds, from Thailand to the world, we're always devoted to what really counts, and passionate about perfecting it. All to deliver what people truly want most.

It's the minor things that make a difference.

Endorsement Types & Tools

There are a number of endorsement tools we use throughout our hotel brand communications to raise the profile of the Minor Hotels master brand and the Minor DISCOVERY loyalty programme. These generally fall into three categories and are often combined in a single communication or marketing asset.

As a general rule, the endorsement grid on the previous page can guide the positioning of these endorsement tools on marketing assets and guest-facing collateral.

The examples in the following pages illustrate how the funnel-driven endorsement strategy is applied to various hotel brand and property assets. For master brand assets, please follow the guidelines and examples outlined later in this document.

1. Logos & Lock-Ups

A logo lock-up combining the new Minor Hotels logo with all hotel brand logos creates an immediate association between the master brand and the hotel brands. The positioning of the Minor Hotels on the left of the lock-up gives it prominence, raising awareness of the brand among consumers. This endorsement tool is generally used at the footer areas of assets and collateral.

Getting Started

Tone of Voice Basics

WHAT IS A TONE OF VOICE?

A tone of voice is the way a brand sounds. It's how a brand speaks, its choice of words, its tempo, its attitude, and all the little differences that make it distinct.

WHY DO WE NEED ONE?

Minor Hotels has transformed into a global consumer-facing hospitality brand, so it needs a whole new way of speaking to our audiences. These guidelines will help you achieve that while maintaining consistency across all platforms and regions, ensuring our brand voice doesn't get diluted and lost in the crowd.

WHO IS IT FOR?

These guidelines are primarily for copywriters, content creators, and campaign managers, to help them ensure our words are always on brand. But they will also be helpful for anyone writing any communications for Minor Hotels.

How to Use These Guidelines

First, familiarise yourself with our voice principles on the following page. These are inspired by the brand pillars outlined earlier in this document. Then read through all the writing tips, techniques, and examples, which will help you bring our brand voice to life.

AFTER YOU FINISH WRITING...

Read back what you have written to ensure it is in tone. Use the style guide and lexicon to ensure you are using the correct styles and vocabulary for the Minor Hotels brand.

Audiences and Platforms

Use only the techniques that are appropriate for your audience and the platform you are writing for – not all voice principles suit every situation, and you should modulate the tone based on the context. For example, development brochures or annual reports will require a more formal tone than marketing copy and guest communications. Please use your discretion to find the right tone.

BRAND IN APPLICATION

Principles

Our brand voice principles are anchored in the personality of our brand. Think of these as a quick reference guide that will help you express our brand essence ‘What matters most’. They also work as a useful checklist for evaluating whether our words are on-brand. Everything we say should be aligned with these principles.

1. Straightforward

Every aspect of Minor Hotels is intentional. Our voice is no different. When we speak, we’re discerning with our words. We focus on what’s important, so our messages come through clearly. And we’re confident in our delivery.

2. Attentive

Care sits at the heart of hospitality. We show our audience we care by expressing our knowledge and understanding in a way that meets their needs. In every interaction, we make people feel seen and welcome – forming genuine connections with relatable, one-to-one communication.

3. Uplifting

When it’s done right, hospitality enriches, excites, and leads to greater fulfilment. But it can be easy for this to be lost amongst the noise. So, we remind our audience of what we can make possible through passionate, compelling language.

BRAND IN APPLICATION

Principles
1. Straightforward

The following tips, techniques and examples will help you adhere to the 'Straightforward' brand voice principle.

We Are Clear

Communicate as efficiently and directly as possible to produce succinct and engaging copy.

KEY TIPS

- Keep sentences short and direct.
- Don't overwhelm your audience. Stick to one idea per sentence.

DO THIS

Minor Hotels is at the heart of the world's most exciting destinations.

NOT THIS

Minor Hotels' diverse spectrum of hotel brands connects to the needs and desires of today's global travellers.

We Are Accessible

Always keep in mind that you are writing for a diverse international audience. Keep your language simple and easy to understand.

KEY TIPS

- Use everyday words that non-native English speakers will understand.
- Avoid culturally specific references or metaphors and idioms of any kind.

DO THIS

Anantara Riverside Bangkok Resort is located in beautiful tropical gardens right on the banks of the Chao Phraya River.

NOT THIS

Nestled along the west bank of the River of Kings amid 11 acres of verdant landscapes, Anantara Riverside Bangkok Resort beckons as an urban destination, seamlessly blending tranquillity with genuine exploration.

We Are Genuine

Minor Hotels is premium without being pretentious. We speak to our audience as equals while avoiding flowery language and hospitality cliches.

KEY TIPS

- Enlighten and engage with succinct descriptions.
- Some adverbs and adjectives are okay, but don't overdo it.
- Use imperatives sparingly.

DO THIS

Qasr al Sarab Desert Resort by Anantara is an oasis of luxury located among the dunes of the Rub 'al Khali. Guests enjoy camelback adventures, desert dining, soothing hammam rituals and more just two hours from Abu Dhabi.

NOT THIS

Qasr Al Sarab by Anantara rises up from flame-coloured dunes like a mirage, inviting adventure in the most luxurious of styles. Traverse the Rub' al Khali by camelback. Dine under desert skies. Indulge in hammam rituals.

Principle 2. Attentive

The following tips, techniques and examples will help you adhere to the 'Attentive' voice brand principle.

We Are Welcoming

We are warm and welcoming, using conversational language that makes our audience feel welcome and at ease.

KEY TIPS

- Address the reader directly as 'you' and Minor as 'we' or 'us'.
- Contractions (we're, you're, etc.) can help your copy sound less formal.
- Be conversational, but not overly familiar.
- Use words that evoke a sense of warmth and welcome.

DO THIS

You're in good hands.

NOT THIS

Minor Hotels is an established and trustworthy hospitality brand.

DO THIS

You'll love our newest Maldives destination.

NOT THIS

We are pleased to announce the opening of our latest Maldives property.

We Are Personal

Never miss an opportunity to communicate that the guest is our primary focus, and what we can do to make their stay even better.

KEY TIPS

- Endeavour to make our services and experiences feel personal to the reader.
- Make the reader feel they are a part of the conversation.
- Address by first name where appropriate.

DO THIS

Hello John, we'd love to hear more about your stay.

NOT THIS

Dear Mr Paulson, Please provide your feedback in the form below.

DO THIS

We know the value of a great night's sleep. That's why we have pillow menus at every NH Collection hotel.

NOT THIS

NH Collection Hotels & Resorts provides an extensive range of pillows for you to choose from as standard.

We Are Knowledgeable

We are always generous and proactive with our knowledge and expertise. We lead with what matters most to our audience.

KEY TIPS

- Take some time to research your subject.
- Ensure you provide real detail about places, venues and activities.
- Avoid generic descriptions.

DO THIS

Anantara Kalutara Resort lets you recharge by the sea, where the Kalu Ganga River meets the Indian Ocean. Experience the 'tropical-modern' architecture of Geoffrey Bawa. Discover the natural treasures of Yala National Park. Or uncover the history and culture of Galle on a captivating one-day tour.

NOT THIS

Anantara Kalutara Resort lets you recharge by the sea, with the mighty Indian Ocean right at your doorstep. Wander nearby parks and gardens. Go scuba diving. See Buddhist temples. Revitalise in the spa.

Principles
3. Uplifting

The following tips, techniques and examples will help you adhere to the 'Uplifting' brand voice principle.

We Are Engaging

Minor Hotels copy should be attention-grabbing at first glance. Hook the audience and keep them reading with impactful headlines and punchy prose.

KEY TIPS

- Use open-ended statements and questions that invite curiosity and discovery.
- Make people feel the words. If the message can be made more impactful, reframe it.
- Copy should be persuasive, purposeful and punchy.

DO THIS
This isn't a job, it's a calling.

NOT THIS
Explore career opportunities at Minor Hotels.

DO THIS
Ready for your next adventure?

NOT THIS
Plan your next adventure with Minor.

We Are Confident

Minor Hotels is a global leader in the hospitality industry. This should be reflected in copy that sounds confident and driven.

KEY TIPS

- Favour the active voice over the passive.
- Choose strong, active verbs and positive words and phrases.
- Begin paragraphs or sentences with [brand name] + 'is' to make a confident opening statement e.g. Minor Hotels is, Anantara is,

DO THIS
Minor Hotels is a global leader in the hospitality industry.

NOT THIS
Minor Hotels has been a major player in the hospitality industry for a number of years.

We Are Energetic

We like to share the joy of travel with all our readers through brisk phrasing, energetic vocabulary and vivid descriptions.

KEY TIPS

- Make bold and impactful statements.
- Use truncated sentences to create an energetic rhythm.
- Use vibrant words that convey excitement and motion.

DO THIS
Summer starts today!

NOT THIS
Book your summer escape with Minor Hotels.

DO THIS
Do business while the beach breeze rolls in.

NOT THIS
Our spacious meeting spaces offer panoramic sea views.

DO THIS
Our lobby is sleek, stylish and connected. A space to work or play.

NOT THIS
Our beautifully designed lobby has ample space for relaxation and high-speed internet so you can stay productive on the go.

What Matters Most

Our brand essence, ‘What matters most’, can be used throughout our content to communicate our commitment to delivering the very best for our guests, our people, and our investors, owners and partners.

The regular use of this and similar phrasing will also add distinctiveness to our copy while helping promote brand recognition through consistent and repeated use.

General Usage

The phrase ‘what matters most’ can be used across all our platforms and for all audiences. It should be used regularly, but don’t overdo it. It should not be used more than once on a page or body of copy.

EXAMPLES

- Anantara is part of Minor Hotels, a world where you can discover what matters most.
- We care about what matters most to you.
- Escape to what matters most.

Reinforcing the Message

Peppering our content with the word ‘matters’ can help reinforce our brand essence and promote brand recognition. Again, this should be used sparingly.

EXAMPLES

- We focus on what truly matters.
- It’s the little things that matter.
- Our Superior Room comes with all the comforts and conveniences that matter.

Styleguide

Follow the styles outlined in this section to ensure consistency across all our platforms and communications.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS

Language

Use British English in all Minor Hotels communications.

Headings and Subheadings

Minor Hotels headings and subheadings can vary between title case and all caps depending on the medium or platform. Please closely follow usage in the templates and examples provided later in this document.

AMPERSANDS

Use in company names when the company does: Anantara Hotels & Resorts, Marks & Spencer. The ampersand can also be used in titles and subtitles if desired: Spa & wellness, Meetings & events.

ACCENTS

Accents aren't mandatory, but we do encourage you to use them where possible to add some international flavour to your English copy: château, pâté, café.

BRITISH ENGLISH

Always use British English spelling and grammar styles.
If in doubt about a specific spelling, please refer to the online Cambridge Dictionary.

BRITISH VS. US ENGLISH – COMMON SPELLING DIFFERENCES:

- 's' not 'z' – e.g. 'capitalise' not 'capitalize', 'analyse' not 'analyze'.
- 're' not 'er' – e.g. 'centre' not 'center', 'theatre' not 'theater'.
- 'our vs. 'or' – e.g. 'colour' not 'color', 'neighbour' not 'neighbor'.
- double V' – e.g. 'traveller' not 'traveler', 'cancelled' not 'canceled'.

CHECK-IN VS. CHECK IN

- 'Check in' and 'check out' are verbs.
- 'Check-in' and 'check-out' (with a hyphen) are nouns.
- 'Check-in' and 'check-out' can also be compound modifiers that act as adjectives.

Examples:

- Check in at reception and then head directly to the beach.
- Check out before 12:00 pm.
- Check-in time is from 2:00 pm.

CONTRACTIONS

Contractions (such as 'We're' instead of 'We are') are allowed in Minor Hotels communications to create a more personal, engaging tone.

CURRENCIES

For most usages, employ the standard international three-letter abbreviations for all currencies:

- USD (United States dollars)
- AUD (Australian dollars)
- THB (Thai baht)
- AED (United Arab Emirates dirhams)
- EUR (Euros)
- GBP (Pounds sterling)

Sample usage: USD 350 per night

When mentioning currencies in running copy as below, write out the word and do not capitalise the currency (other than a national descriptor, if used):

Example: In large cities, dollars are widely accepted.

DECIMALS

In currencies with a decimal system, only include decimals when there is a decimal amount greater than zero.

- USD 2,500.00 – incorrect
- USD 2,500 – correct
- USD 34.50 – correct

DISCOUNT

Avoid the word 'discount' in all content. Use alternatives such as 'savings' and 'for less' instead.

EXCLAMATION MARKS

Exclamation marks (!) are allowed in high-impact content to catch the reader's attention, but they should be used sparingly.

GEOGRAPHY

Distinct areas are capitalised: Southeast Asia, East Africa.
Areas defined by compass points are lower case: the north, the southeast, the southwest, etc., Equally: eastern culture, western music, etc.

HYPHENS & DASHES

Hyphens

Hyphenate compound modifiers. These are multi-word phrases that act like an adjective; they come before a noun to modify it. Do not hyphenate similar phrases that come after a verb.

Dashes

Minor Hotels brand voice prefers short, snappy sentences. However, if you do wish to use a dash to indicate a pause or parenthetical reference within or at the end of a sentence, always utilise an en-dash (–).

Include one space before and after the dash. Do not use a hyphen (-) or em-dash (—) for this purpose.

Example:

- The lobby – inspired by a traditional desert villa – is a cool and calm oasis.

JOB TITLES

When referring to someone's job title, use title case.

Examples: Sales Associate, Marketing Communications Manager.

Styleguide

Follow the styles outlined in this section to ensure consistency across all our platforms and communications.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS

Language

Use British English in all Minor Hotels communications.

Headings and Subheadings

Minor Hotels headings and subheadings can vary between title case, sentence case and all caps depending on the medium or platform. Please closely follow usage in the templates and examples provided later in this document.

NUMBERS

The general guidelines for numbers are as follows:

- Numbers zero to nine should be written out as words in body copy.
- Numbers 10 and up should be written with numerals.

For simplicity, numbers may be written with numerals in headlines, bullet points and package definitions.

- Maximum 2 persons
- 3 nights

When beginning a sentence with a number, write out the numbers with words.

Example: Four villa types are available right on the beach.

For English-language communications, separate large numbers with commas after every three digits:

- USD 1,200
- USD 2,450,000

For other languages, follow local conventions.

When a sentence uses a mixture of numbers larger and smaller than 10, write all in numerals for consistency.

- For bookings of 8 to 12 nights; not For bookings of eight to 12 nights.

MINOR PRO & MINOR DISCOVERY

The correct capitalisation style for writing our related Minor Hotels brands are as follows:

- Minor PRO
- Minor DISCOVERY

OPENING TIMES

Please keep it as simple as possible. If the outlet is open seven days a week it is not required to use the word ‘daily’ before or after the opening hours.

- 6:30 pm – 10:00 pm
- Tue – Sun: 6:30 pm – 10:00 pm

When separate hours for breakfast, lunch and/or dinner, please format as follows:

- Breakfast: 7:00 am – 10:00 am
- Lunch: 12:00 pm – 2:00 pm
- Dinner: 6:30 pm – 10:00 pm

PERCENTAGES

In consumer-racing copy please use symbols, e.g., 20%. In official documents or annual reports, you can use words, e.g., 20 percent.

TEAM MEMBERS

This is the word we use for Minor Hotels employees. We never say ‘staff’, ‘members of staff’ or ‘colleagues’.

TELEPHONE NUMBERS

As a general rule, write telephone numbers with a space, not a dash, between each number grouping. Always include the full international telephone number including IDD, preceding the country code with a plus sign and dropping the unused 0.

Example:

T +66 2 555 5555

TIME

The Minor Hotels time format is as follows:

- 9:00 am
- 6:30 pm

Rules:

- Write times using a 12-hour clock rather than a 24-hour clock. However, the exception is minorhotels.com, which will use a 24-hour clock format exclusively.
- Separate the hours and minutes with a colon.
- Write ‘am’ or ‘pm’ lowercase, preceded by a space, without full stops after the letters.

Midday should be written as:

- 12:00 pm

Midnight should be written as:

- 12:00 am

TIME RANGES

As with date ranges, use an en-dash with a space on both sides. Include the ‘am’ or ‘pm’ in both times.

Example:

- 1:00 pm – 3:00 pm

WEBSITES

Website urls should be written out in lower case, dropping the preceding ‘http://www.’.

Examples:

- minorhotels.com
- anantara.com

WIFI

Use WiFi. Not WIFI, wifi, Wifi or Wi-Fi.

Logo

This is the Minor Hotels logo. It is our primary brand asset and the core signifier of the Minor Hotels visual identity.

Our logo captures the essence of our brand, ‘What matters most,’ by incorporating an arrowhead within the ‘M’ of Minor. This arrowhead symbolises navigation and direction, guiding and highlighting the journeys of our guests around the world.

It has been carefully constructed and should not be altered or redrawn in any way. Take care to apply the logo in the ways outlined within this document.

Clearspace & Minimum Size

CLEARSPACE

To ensure prominence and legibility, our logo must always have ample space around it, allowing it to stand out. This area is known as clearspace, and nothing should encroach upon it. The clearspace is half the height of the ‘M’ in ‘Minor’ and should be applied equally on all sides.

MINIMUM SIZE

To maintain the legibility of the Minor Hotels logo at small sizes, a minimum size requirement exists for both print and digital formats and should be adhered to whenever possible.

Typography Suite

Our typography suite is made up of four different typefaces in a variety of weights and should be used for all external communications.

Each typeface plays a specific role and should be used with care and consideration.

HEADINGS

Mānuka Bold is bold, impactful and our most distinct visual asset after our logo. All headlines should be set in Mānuka.

HEADING KEYWORD

Amorfatti is an expressive script typeface that imbues our brand with a human quality, and should be used to support our communications with short, emotion-led words that express the joy of travel and discovery.

SUBHEADINGS | NAVIGATION | CALLS TO ACTION

Plus Jakarta Sans is a clean sans-serif typeface selected to support our headline typeface. Plus Jakarta Sans performs a functional role in our communications, adding context, providing navigation or for consistent calls to action.

BODY COPY

Hospitality is an industry full of stories and memories worth sharing. To tell those stories, Newsreader has been selecting for use in body copy. Use for all longer, story-driven passages of copy in our communications.

TYPESETTING

It is important that Mānuka is typeset with care and consideration for consistency in all communications across all formats and sizes.

When typesetting Mānuka, care needs to be taken when setting the leading / line-height – the space between the lines of text (baseline) that determines the legibility and readability of the typography.

As a general rule of thumb, the leading / line-height for Mānuka should be set to 90% of the typesize, ensuring the ascenders and descenders of different lines of copy do not touch or overlap.

Mānuka headlines should always appear in Title Case.

TYPESETTING

When typesetting Plus Jakarta Sans, care needs to be taken with the leading / line-height and kerning settings.

As a general rule of thumb, the leading and kerning of text should be reduced as the size of the text increases. For smaller typesizes, the leading and kerning should increase to give the text room to breathe and space for the reader's eye to rest, as shown on this page.

Expression

The typefaces in our typography suite have been carefully selected to complement each other, meaning we are able to combine them in interesting and dynamic ways.

While respecting the roles each typeface plays, they can be mixed together to create flexible and expressive compositions.

Shown on this page is one example of how we are able to combine our typefaces to great effect whilst maintaining visual and verbal hierarchy.

Expression Examples

The combinations are endless when creating expressive type compositions for different types of communications. Shown on this page are a few more examples to inspire you.

To help you succeed, please consider the following pointers that should be considered when creating new compositions:

KEEP IT SIMPLE

Less is more! Keep our words short and straightforward and only use our typefaces with the same care and precision.

CONSISTENCY

Avoid introducing multiple sizes and styles for each typeface (for example, all instances of Newsreader that appear in a composition should be consistently sized).

HIERARCHY

Where does your eye go first? Second? Consider how the whole composition is read, and adjust your typefaces, spacing, size and placement to ensure it is legible and effective.

Typography Alignment

As a general rule of thumb, we always either centre-align or left-align our copy for consistency and legibility. When typesetting longer passages of copy, such as editorial style communications, set your paragraph settings to left-aligned, ragged-right.

Never right-align our words or fully justify long passages of copy.

Typography Capitalisation

HEADLINES

When using our two primary brand fonts, it is essential to maintain correct capitalisation to ensure consistency and clarity.

Headlines are always written in Title Case.

USE OF AMORFATTI

When using Amorfatti with Mānuka, please follow these guidelines to maintain clarity, consistency and visual balance:

- Use Amorfatti to highlight a single word or a short phrase, ideally no more than two words.
- Limit the use of Amorfatti to maintain a clean, legible design, and apply the font only where it enhances the visual appeal of the specific layout.
- The placement and sizing of both fonts are at the designer's discretion; however, care must be taken to ensure the overall headline remains visually balanced and legible.
- If the combination of Amorfatti and Mānuka does not work well within the design, it is acceptable to use Mānuka only. Avoid forcing the use of Amorfatti where it compromises readability or layout.

Colour Palette

Minor Hotels' colour palette begins with a neutral base of White and Navy, allowing each of the brands in our portfolio and photography of each property to shine on their own.

Our secondary colour palette, inspired by landscapes from destinations around the world, complements our primary colours to add visual interest and impact.

It is recommended that our primary colours are used for all key communication layouts. Secondary colours should be used sparingly and with purpose to complement our primary colour palette.

Photography Categories

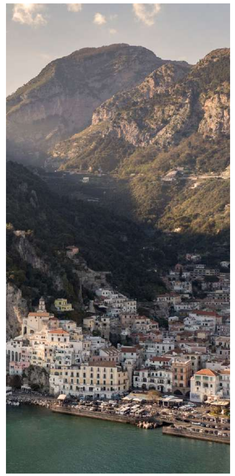
Our photography highlights the unique aspects of our properties, people, services, and experiences.

Making up our photography suite are the categories shown on this page.

For photography that does not fit within any of the categories shown here, consider the principles within this section as a guide for selecting or commissioning photography.

Properties

For most communications, start by selecting property photography. Aim to showcase the property's finest features and the essence of its location.



Destinations

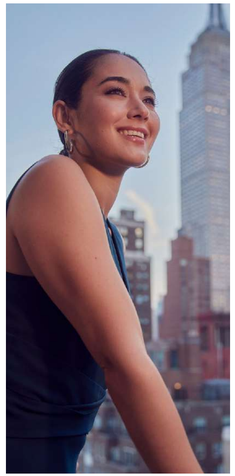
A destination photo can complement or replace a property photo when the primary goal is to highlight a specific location, or when the available property photography does not meet brand standards.

Experiences

Use experiential photography to enrich the brand story when appropriate. These images allow us to showcase the diverse experiences available to travellers through Minor Hotels.

Lifestyle

Used to support and humanise our property, destination and experiential photography adds authenticity and warmth.



Food & Beverage

Food and beverage photography should be used in specific scenarios, such as promoting dining offers. The images should be enticing and vivid, evoking the aromas, textures, and flavours, creating a sensory experience that draws the viewer in and invites indulgence.

Spa & Wellness

Similar to food and beverage, spa and wellness photography should be used in specific scenarios, such as a spa and wellness offer. The images should inspire relaxation and calm for our guests.

Selecting Photography

When selecting photography consider the context of the communication. Is this meant to inspire and engage, or to inform and reveal?

For example, for an Instagram post choose an aspirational image that evokes a feeling. For a food and beverage offer, choose a more specific image.

PROPERTIES

For most communications, property photography will feature prominently. They are our most distinct asset and are entirely unique to Minor Hotels and should be used wherever possible.

DESTINATIONS

Used to support our property photography and are used to contextualise our properties in their locations.

EXPERIENCES

For specific properties where experiences are as important as the property or destination itself, experiential photography can be used to support the story of the communication.

LIFESTYLE

Used to support and humanise our property, destination and experiential photography adds authenticity and warmth.

FOOD & BEVERAGE / SPA & WELLNESS

Used when required, for example, for a dining offer or a spa and wellness package included in a guest's stay.

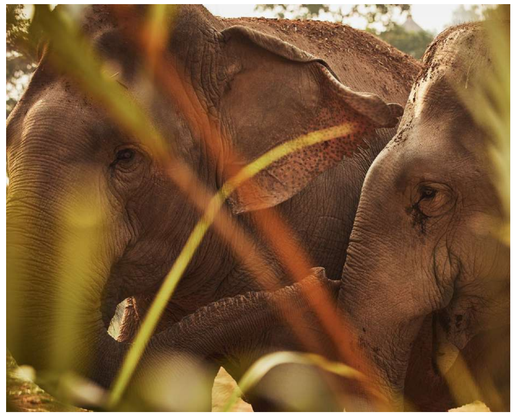
Photography Composition

When commissioning or selecting stock photography, it's important that our photography is fit-for-purpose. Shown on this page are a few principles to consider.

SINGULAR FOCUS

Images should tell a clear story. By using a strong singular focal point you can create a quick visual read on our imagery.

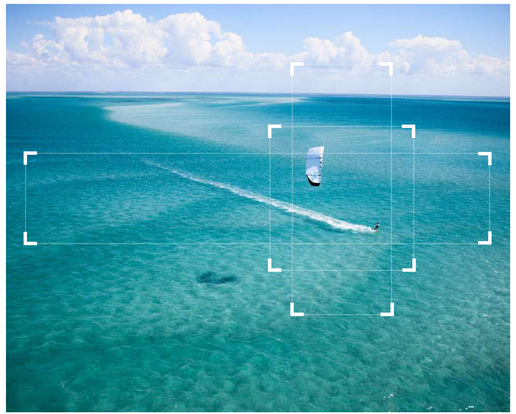


DEPTH OF FIELD

Hospitality is immersive, sensory and intimate. Consider using photography with depth of field to bring the viewer into the scene.

BOLD AND VIBRANT

From stunning sunsets to bold interiors, photography can use strong, single-minded colours to create impactful communications.



CROP FLEXIBILITY

Being able to crop into our imagery is important. From wide billboards to tall banner ads, test all extremes before selecting an image.

ARCHITECTURALLY PHOTOGRAPHED

Images should be photographed professionally, with care and consideration given to the forms, lines and dimensions of the exteriors and interiors of our properties.

NEGATIVE SPACE

Photography should incorporate plenty of negative space (the clean space within the image) to allow for flexibility in copy placement.

Photography Filter

In some cases our photography needs to be edited to feel consistent and on-brand, for example, when we need to use stock to support our property or destination photography.

Consider the following settings in Adobe Photoshop for editing photography:

1. Add a fill layer

   Layer > New fill layer > Solid colour

   Enter hex code #FAF7F2 (off-white)

   Change the layer blend mode from normal to multiply

2. Reduce saturation

   Reduce by -10 to -30 depending on the image

3. Adjust Brightness/Contrast

   Start with 'auto' settings and adjust accordingly

Selecting Stock

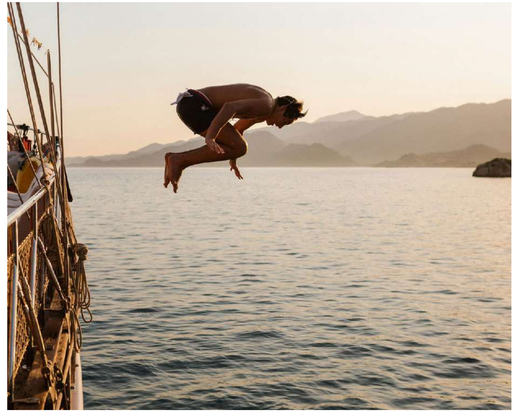
For some communications we need to rely on stock photography to support our brand photography. Consider the principles on this page as a criteria for stock photography that suits our brand and our audience. Just ensure any imagery being used fits our principles and style directives.

AUTHENTIC

Imagery should be naturally lit and feel authentic, capturing moments of joy.

COLOURFUL

Colours should feel rich and vibrant. Imagery should not feel blown-out or cold.

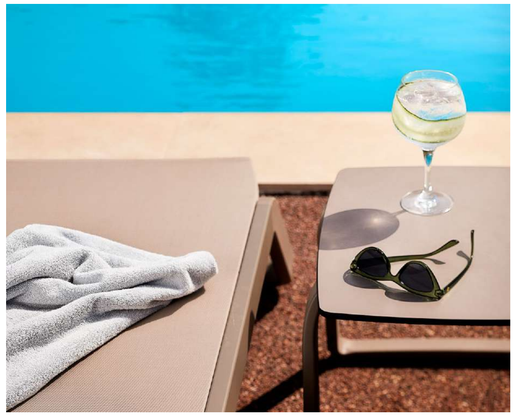


EMOTIVE

Imagery should capture a sense of discovery.

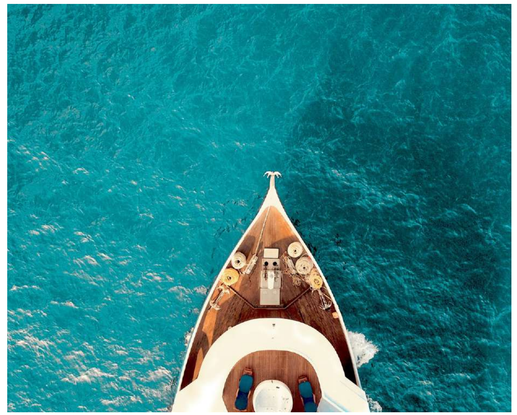
INVITING

Imagery should feel human and warm. Avoid serious or posed expressions.



HUMAN

Imagery should imply the feeling of a human presence or a lived-in space.



SIMPLE

Compositions should create interest and feel unique to Minor Hotels.

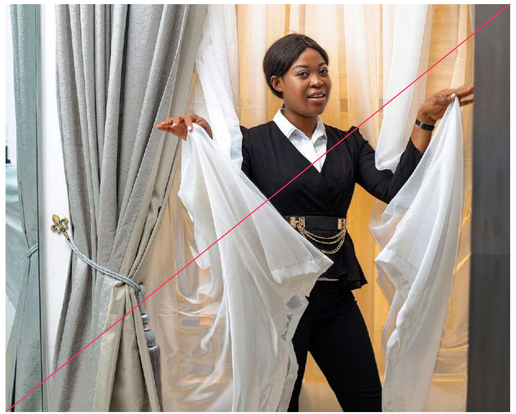
Photography Guidance

Using incorrect imagery can make the Minor Hotels brand feel disjointed, or worse, can misrepresent what Minor Hotels stands for. Additionally it can give an impression of a lack of professionalism and harm our trustworthiness.

Please consider the following guidance when incorporating photography into any communication.



INAUTHENTIC

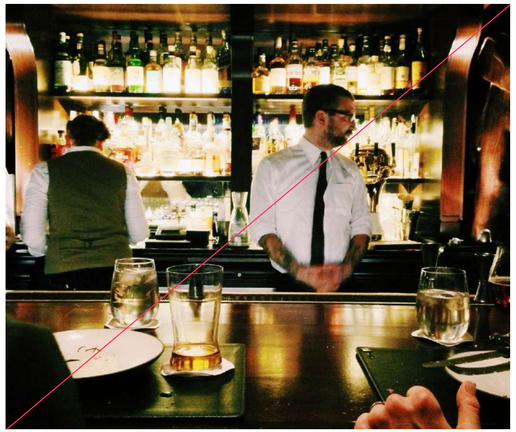
Avoid imagery that is posed and inauthentic. Looking into camera or overly staged photos will damage the brand's authenticity.

BLACK AND WHITE

Do not use black and white photography.

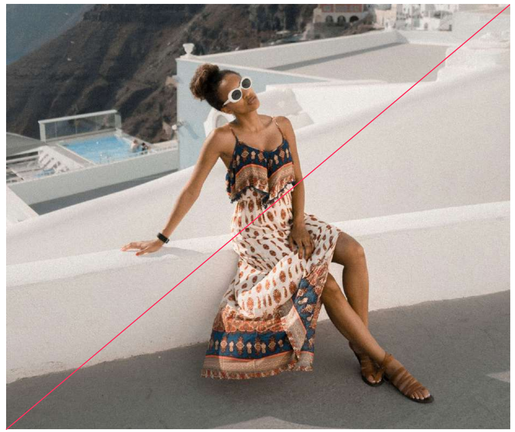
UNWELCOMING SHOTS

Avoid unnatural oversaturation of colours and overly dark or muted colours.



CLUTTERED

Avoid visually busy photography. A visually busy image competes with messaging in communications.



FASHION SHOTS

Avoid shots which don't represent our audience or feel overly "fashion" or edgy.

DEVOID OF HUMANITY

Avoid photography with no signs of humanity.

Combining With Text

When combining the Minor Hotels graphic device with copy or calls to action, it is important to consider the scale and placement of each element in relation to each other.

As shown on this page, the size of the graphic device is 1.5 times the cap-height of the text (x) it is paired with and centre-aligned horizontally.

The space between the graphic device and the text is 1.5 times the width of the graphic device (y).

The graphic device may be placed before or after the call to action.

When combining the graphic device with Newsreader, for example, as a bullet, the same rules apply.

Put People First

No matter how quickly we move or how much the industry changes, we never lose sight of what matters most–people. From employee wellbeing to thoughtful guest experiences; if you're part of our world, we'll aim to fill it with meaning and enjoyment. Because to us, hospitality is so much more than a service–it's a way to help more people lead fulfilling lives.

The Minor Things

Our discerning standards are shaped by what truly counts to our guests, our people and our partners.

I created the 'Reef Hero' course during my time as a marine biologist and dive instructor in Malaysian Borneo. This course, focusing on coral reef restoration and rehabilitation, was inspired by my diving students' desire to positively impact the oceans they love exploring. Witnessing the adverse effects of marine issues like debris, over-fishing, pollution, and global warming, this inspired me to create guidelines that can be used by recreational divers to save coral reefs around the world.

— ORIANA MIGLIACCIO

winter breaks at the aquarium. "It is this deep love for the marine world that got me interested from an early age in pursuing a career in marine biology," she reflects. Following her passion, Oriana earned her B.Sc. and M.Sc. in Marine Biology in Italy. Her journey then took her to the Maldives for an additional master's in Tropical Marine Biology, where the allure of tropical environments steered her focus towards specialising in coral reef biology and conservation. This newfound dedication culminated in earning her PhD in the United Kingdom, solidifying her commitment to preserving marine ecosystems.

Oriana's expertise, honed in the jungles of Borneo as a Conservation Manager and Dive Leader, now flourishes in the Maldives. Her initiatives span coral reef restoration, sea turtle protection, and sustainable practices, all pivotal to the region's marine ecosystem. A crowning achievement is her creation of the "Reef Hero" PADI specialty, a course designed to educate divers on coral conservation, nurturing a new wave of ocean stewards.

Over more than four decades, driven by an entrepreneurial spirit and the mindset that better beats bigger, we've been devoted to exceeding people's needs by acting with excellence. In that time, we've carefully curated a portfolio of hotel brands, hospitality businesses and strategic partnerships. From midscale to luxury, East to West, drinks to decor–every part of the Minor Hotels world has met our discerning standards.
